

Competition Winner uses CornerTape.

Alan Milne, the winner of the tiling competition held at the recent 'Tile and stone exhibition' at London Excel used CornerTape in the last hour of the competition to finish of his hard work perfectly, and not only that but the 3rd placed tiler, Stephen Elliot also used CornerTape to finish his bay too.

Alan and Stephen visited the CornerTape stand at the end of the second day of the show to ask us about the product . They wanted to find out if CornerTape really could achieve a silicone joint to match the high quality of their tiling, and with only one hour allowed on the last day they didn't want to take the chance on a poor quality silicone joint using traditional methods or get themselves into a mess and waste time.

Stephen Elliot the 3rd placed tiler in the competition.

Alan Milne the proud winner of the tiling competition.

We were only too pleased to show Alan and Stephen the ease of use of CornerTape and the exceptionally high quality finish that you get from using CornerTape, after a quick demo they both agreed that the finish was perfect and far better than they could achieve 'free hand' so they were immediately convinced that CornerTape was the product for them.

We asked them to come and see us on the Tuesday morning so they could have a go for themselves, just a couple of metre's each would be sufficient for them to feel confident with it, which they did. And of they went back to their bays to finish off.

The rest as they say is history.

Not bad for a product that is seen by many a tradesman as a product for DIYers.

Well all we would say is that here you have two professional tillers with many years experience using traditional methods of application and finish of silicone, i.e wet finger and the rest. They both opted to use the new product and it delivered faultlessly.

It applies easliy, worked perfectly and with a finish to match. Perfect, what more can we say.

Give it a try your customers won't be disappointed.
